Without Result.

INCREASE IN PIG IRON PRODUCTION

At the last meeting of the United Cigar Makers' Union, No. 1374, K. of L., the Agitation Committee had a long discussion about a fraudulent label which is now introduced by a Chicago firm. The label is sold to non-union cigar houses. Mr. Zoerringer submitted a circular which he had received from the Chicago firm, in which they offered the blue label of the International Cigar Makers' Union at the following rates: $3 for 1,000, a 5,000 lot for $2 50 per 1.000 and a 10.000 lot at $2 per 1.000.

The label was examined by the members present and all pronounced it a forgery. The matter was then referred to President Strasser, of the International Cigar Makers'

A VERY SERIOUS MATTER. Joseph L. Evans, President of the Central Trades Council, was questioned on the counterfeit label trouble last evening, and said the master was agitating the union very eonsiderably. "There are thousands of these labels in use over the two cities," said he, "and the members of the International Cigar Makers' Union seel very sore about it. It is one of the boldest counterfeits I have ever heard of. The color of the label, all the wording of it and even the name of Mr. Strasser, President of the International Union, is imitated. The printers claim that Strasser has sold them the label; but I know that is not so, because Strasser could not do

"But how does it harm the union?" HOW IT INJURES.

"Why, in this way: Every box of tobies or w ny, in this way. Every box of tooles of cigars with the blue label of the K. of L. on it is considered to be of good quality, because presumably made at good wages. Heavy smokers frequently buy their eigars by looking at the label. These people in Chicago, of course, sell the counterfeit labels to any-body and a man, who makes a bad article. body, and a man who makes a bad article at non-union wages, can impose upon the public by having the spurious label put "How is it that you do not sue the Chicago printer?"

"Well, we don't know whether we can The law is very peculiar on that subject in some States, and I am not sure how the thing stands in Pennsylvania. I am certain that, in New Jersey, for instance, a man can copy anybody's label or trade mark, and the law does not give him any redress."

The Cigar Makers' Union, K. of L., No. 1374, held a meeting last night, and a resolution was passed to assist the members of the International Union in their fight against the Chicago printer who has made the spurious labels.

A BIG COMBINATION.

The Rochester Tumbler Company May Join | The Belgian Glass Said to Have Deterior the Tableware Trust.

H. C. Fry, of the Rochester Tumbler Works, was in the city yesterday. When asked about the proposed Tableware Trust, he replied: "It is true such a trust is in existence, and 41 firms have already joined. I think it was a good idea, and will correct a number of evils that have crept into the "You mean to say then that your company will join the trust?"

"Well, I don't know about that, I realize that my company would be only one against a big combination and on the outside the firm would be only a thorn in their side."

In a turther chat Mr. Fry intimated that another trust might be formed this winter, and his firm would go into the combina-

J. W. MOORE SPEAKS.

He Claims the Big Operators Are Keeping Down the Prices.

J. W. Moore said yesterday that some of the large operators are trying to drive out the smaller companies by keeping down prices. Unless prices go up soon he will stop his plant.

From Scottdale it was learned that only

1,802 ovens are now idle in the entire region. There are 37 Huns locked up at Greensburg for rioting at the Mammoth works. One was shot in the hip while trying to escape arrest. The 30 miners and six drawers who were working at Meyer

w. J. Rainey posted the scale at his Ft. Hill and Mt. Braddock works, but refused to sign the agreement. Robert Hogsett also declines to sign.

THE FLINT GLASS WORKERS.

All the Different Branches Expected to be at Work Next Monday.

All the chimney and pressed ware flint glasshouses of the Western district have re sumed operations. The scale list in all the departments but one has been agreed upon by the manufacturers, and the final settlement is to be made at a meeting next Tuesday. There is no trouble anticipated anywhere.

The tableware houses are also to commence next Monday, and so will the bottle blowers. The latter will not present a new scale of wages until the middle of December, and, according to their present agreement with the manufacturers, the old scale will remain in force another year. If the men desire a change of the scale, they must notify the manufacturers six months in advance.

THE GOVERNOR CENSURED

Because He Had Failed to Appeint a Factory Inspector.

There is considerable talk in labor cir eles because the Governor has not yet appointed a Factory Inspector. This office was created during the last session of the Legislature, and the bill was signed by the Governor. The latter states that nobody was appointed because there was no appro-priation made for the payment of the officer. The labor men, however, say that it is simply an excuse because the Governor might de-fray the expenses which the position incurs out of the contingent fund.

The bill was brought up to prevent children from working in factories, and the workingmen are very anxious to have the office filled for their protection.

A Coppee Coke Plant in Alabama. C. B. Vanghan, Managing Director of the American Coppee Coke Company, returned from Birmingham, Alabama, yesterday. He informed a DISPATCH reporter that he had concluded arrangements for a branch of their works at Birmingham. The company is erecting a plant of 60 cokeovens there, as well as a 350-ton coal washery. A VERY GOOD SHOWING.

The Consumption of Home Pig Iron Increased Nearly Half a Million Tone in One Year-Some Interesting Statistics. The following is from an advanced proof of the American Manufacturer, showing the great increase in the consumption of home made pig iron during the last year: The almost simultaneous publication of Mr. Swank's statement of the production of pig iron during the past six months of 1889 and of the Bureau of Statistics statement of imports for the fiscal year furnishes the opportunity for arriving at an approximate statement of our consumption of pig iron that is very nearly correct.

Statement of production, imports and consumption of pig iron for fiscal years 1888-69;

6, 713, 462 7, 320, 969 The Central Trades Union Discuss Marvin 9, 376 12,985 Exports, domestic Exports, foreign... Total exports... 13, 435 502, 934 9,947 Total stocks and exports. 388,220 516,369
Assuming that the imported pig iron remaining in warehouse, the amount of which is very small, was the same in 1882 as in 1888 the excess of production and imports over stock on hand and exports at the close of the fiscal years 1888 and 1889 would be as follows:

6, 345, 342 6, 894, 600 If the stocks in the hands of manufacturers intended for their own consumption and the stocks sold to consumers, brokers, speculators, etc., which are not included in statistics of ks, are no greater in 1889 than in 1888 then consumption of pig from in year ending e 30, 1885, was 6,504,600 tons as compared t 6,343,242 tons in 1888 or 458,378 tons more in with 6,343,242 tons in 1888 or 458,578 tons more in 1889 than in the previous year.

This increased consumption is all domestic pig iron. More than this, as the importation of pig iron was 142,261 tons less in 1889 than in 1888, and as we have assumed that stocks of imported pig are the same as a year ago, it is evident that the consumption of domestic pig is also this much greater than it was in 1889, which would make the increased consumption of domestic pig iron in the fiscal year of 1899, as compared with 1888, of about 601,639 tons.

This is certainly a most gratifying exhibition. It is especially gratifying in showing not only that there has been an increase in consumption but that an increasing proportion of that consumption is of domestic manufacture.

THEY WON'T COMPROMISE.

Glassworkers Will Insist on Their Demands Lyon Has Not Yet Asked Them for Their Side of the Investigar on Tronble.

The members of the Window Glassworkers' Union do not think the conflict between them and the manufacturers will be very serious. Mr. Cake, Secretary of the pnion, did not want to talk on the subject yesterday. Another member of the Executive Council said in regard to the question:

"The manufacturers have a great deal of stock on hand, and they are not ready to start yet. But I feel sure, as soon as they are, they will pay what we ask them without any further trouble. That was all which transpired at the last meeting. They asked us what we wanted and we told them. Then they stated they were not ready yet, and of course we adjourned. "Has there been any talk of a compre

"Not that I know of, and I was at the office of our union this morning. However, you need have no fear that anything of the kind will occur, because our scale stands. We feel that we are justified in making the demand of 5 per cent advance and we will not go back on it."

"Is there any news in regard to the investigation of the foreign glass men?"

"None whatever. Whenever Mr. Lyon is ready to ask us for our side of the case we will accommodate him. When Mr. Evans states that Mr. Lyon did do so he is mistaken, and he knows it." James Campbell went to Lafayette Springs last night, where his family has been stay-ing during the last week.

THE TANK NO GOOD.

ated in Quality

American manufacturers of window glass have a great demand for third quality window glass. This demand for a poorer quality is said to be due to the introduction of tanks in Belgium. President Bodine has made an estimate of the glass produced in tanks, and, according to his calculation, it is stated that foreign glass has greatly deteriorated in quality since the introduction of the tanks. "The fact is," said a glass man the tanks. "The fact is," said a glass man yesterday, "the product from the tanks is not as good as the glass from the pot furnaces. In former years the third quality of foreign glass was equal to the second quality of American glass, but the tank has brought the Belgian glass down to a poorer quality. On this account the poorer quality of American glass is placed on an equality with the foreign article and creates of course a foreign article, and creates, of course, a readier market.

THE STRIKE SOON OVER.

Two Other Large Firms Conceded the Advance to the Cokemen.

The coke strike is gradually coming to an end. The Mammoth Coke Works of the J. W. Moore Coke Company conceded the advance yesterday, and the works will resume to-day. This is considered a great point by the strikers, because Moore & Co. asserted they would not sign, as they could not afford to. The United Coal and Coke Company, at United, also signed, and started up yesterday.

All the trouble is now centered in Moyer, where the Rainey works are located. There were about 75 men at work yesterday, and the place was strongly guarded by policemen to prevent the labor leaders from getting into contact with the men and per trouble in the case is now that the firms are willing to pay the advance, but they do not want to sign the scale. M'CLURG IN TROUBLE.

Union Cigar Makers Say He Employs Non-Unionists in His Factory.

Mr. McClurg, when asked last night what the trouble was between him and the Central Trades Council, said he thought the proceeding very unjust. "I have always paid the highest wages of any cigar manufacturer in town," he said. "Some time ago a committee of the Cigar Makers' Union waited on me and asked me to force my men to pay their back dues in the assembly. I told them that I did not interfere with my employes in such a mat-ter. Whether they pay their dues or not does not concern me, as long as they do their work for me in a satisfactory manner. The men please me, and we get along well together, and whether they are members of the union or not. I do not care.'

IT IS STILL UNSETTLED.

A Meeting of the Labor Organizations Discussing Mr. Marvin. A joint meeting composed of delegates from all local trades and labor unions was held in Knights of Labor Hall last night to devise ways and means for a proper adinstment of the differences between the United Bakers' Association Assembly and United Bakers' Association Assembly and S. S. Marvin & Co.

There was a very full meeting, and J. L. Evans acted as Chairman. When they adjourned, at 11 o'clock, however, the reporters were told that nothing could be given to the public until the matter had been fully decided. Another meeting will take place September 5, when a settlement of the trouble is expected.

BIG FREIGHT WRECK

One Train Runs Into Another on a Grade Near Wooster, O.

AN ENGINE AND 15 CARS SMASHED.

The Trainmen Were Warned in Time and Jumped Before the Crash.

TRAFFIC WAS BLUCKADED FOR HOURS

A very ugly freight wreck befell the Fort Wayne Railroad yesterday, the scene being the Wooster curve, near Wooster, O. Since March 14 the road has not had a wreck of any magnitude, and that of yesterday came as an unpleasant reminder that railroads are not infallible. The Wooster grade is a very long one, averaging 45 feet to the mile, and a sharp curve makes it a troublesome spot on the road. The engine attached to the second section of No. 77 freight broke a link-lifter while going down the curve westbound. By vigorous braking the train was stopped just beyond the curve for the purpose of repairing the injury, this being shortly after noon. A flagman was sent back to stop the section behind. Owing to close running the section could not be reached in time to prevent a collision. The flagman's warning was EFFECTUAL IN SAVING LIFE, owever. The train came bowling down grade at 25 miles an hour, and the engineer whistled down brakes, and with his fireman, jumped, an example followed by the balince of the crew. Several of the men were slightly bruised by hasty contact with the ground. The noise of the approaching train warned the men on the stalled section and all hands got out of the way.

It was a great sight when the flying train struck the stationary cars. . The engine flew into the air and came down exactly across the two tracks, and the crash made the natives think a thunder storm was brewing. Twelve cars of the stationary train were made kindling wood of and three cars of the running train shared the same fate. One of the wrecked cars contained tin plate, and it covered a wide expanse of ground. Most of the merchandise in the ruined cars was heavy and of considerable value. The track was very badly torn up, and the mass of debris looked formidable

No time was lost in getting wrecking trains to the scene. Trains from Alliance, Wooster and Orrville were sent as rapidly as possible, and QUICK WORK WAS DONE. The engine laying across the track was shifted enough to clear both tracks, and the work of clearing the track was carried on. Later it was found that the engine had slipped back three feet and blocked a track, slipped back three feet and blocked a track, and all the work had to be done over. The tracks were blockaded for seven hours.

No. 4, coming East, was held at Wooster pending the clearing of the tracks, and did not arrive in this city until 1:20 o'clock this morning. No. 11 going West was similarly detained at Alliance. In order to accommodate the regular local traffic between Alliance and Pittshurg a train was made. modate the regular local traffic between Al-liance and Pittsburg a train was made up at the former station and run through upon No. 4's time. The bucolic appearance of the non-uniformed trainmen created some excitement at Union depot last evening, the report being circulated that the regular crew of the train had been victims of the accident. The loss to the company will be heavy, but no estimate could be obtained t evening on account of meager reports

MR. HOUSTON TALKS.

Have Had Their Bail Renewed-A New Suit Against the L. and O. Society.

J. W. Houston, a prominent official of the Law and Order League, was seen last night at his home on Lincoln avenue in reference to the forfeiting of bail at Alderman McNulty's in Allegheny through the non-appearance of the league's detectives. He said the circulation of the report was mere bombast; no such thing had happened. It had been arranged by General Blackley, for Martin, and Mr. Rebman for the league, to postpone the hearing of the detective case before Alderman McNulty for a week, until At-torney Yost returned. It was necessary to renew bonds for the detectives, and the league people were over at McNulty's on Wednesday afternoon to renew the bonds. Mr. Houston himself went there at 5 o'clock, but the Alderman was away and had left no one to represent him. The bonds, how-

Said Mr. Houston:

"Martin entered a new suit yesterday employment on Sunday. That is a foolish move, because the judges, three years ago, reversed a decision given against the league for worldly employment on a Sunday. The Law and Order detectives do not induce men to break the Sunday laws. If any of our men can be found enticing people to break the law, and it can be proven, we will discharge the man and refund the James Kelly is Arrested on a Charge of Highway Robbery.

Kelly, of Washington street, was arrested last night at the Lake Erie depot, on a charge of highway robbery preferred by Archy Sproul.

It will be remembered that one evening about July 25, Sproul, who is a driver for the Standard Oil Company, was robbed near the Bedford avenue water basin. He was assailed by two or three men who stole $30 in gold from him. A man named Glenn is now in jail awaiting a trial for complicity in the robbery, and there are more arrests

When Kelly was arrested last night, he had just returned from a pienic given by the Lake Erie brakemen at Aliquippa.

Alexander Nimick had him placed in Dixmont, where he remained for four years. His restoration to reason had been supposed to be complete prior to his release from Dixmont, but his liberty did not last long. He was conscious, in some peculiar way, of his own recurring aberration and recently was taken to the City Farm by his own request. In some unexplained manner he escaped yesterday and came to the city, finding his way to the home of his sister, on Sandusky street, where he borrowed some money. His rational appearance quelled any uneasiness his sister telt. Mr. Stewart is supposed to have purchased a revolver in the interim between his departure from Sandusky street and his arrevolver in the interim between his departure from Sandusky street and his arrival at the Observatory Hill residence of his brother-in-law, Prof. J. A. Brashear. While that gentleman had temporarily absented himself to telephone to Mrs. Stewart Mr. Stewart left the house unobserved, and sought a place where he fired the fatal shot. The noise was observed, and, after a search lasting 40 minutes, Mr. Stewart was found lying wounded and unconscious. The patrol wagon was called, and the injured man was taken to the Allegheny General Hospital, where he received every attention. Hospital, where he received every attention Mr. Stewart was a man of fine attainment and great probity, and had many friends who will regret keenly his possible death.

THE FEARS OF TERRY.

George A. Jenks Says the Department Was Warned Last Winter

WATCH THE CALIFORNIAN His Fellow-Judges Were More Concerned

Than Justice Field. HE DECLINED TO GIVE HIS OPINION

Ex-Solicitor General George A. Jenks is at the Seventh Avenue Hotel. His connection with the telephone cases for the Government keeps him busy traveling over the ountry taking evidence. Mr. Jenks said last night he had worked hard since he was a boy 14 years old, and he had hoped to spend some time at home after he retired from the Department of Justice, but as it is he is up to his eyes in business, and hasn't even time to read the newspapers. For this reason he claimed he not posted on politics and he hadn't heard of the attempt to shelve Cleveland in New York and bring out Whitney as the Presidental candidate of the Democratic party in 1892

Concerning the tragic ending of Judge Terry he said: HE HAD LOOKED FOR IT.

"I expected something of the kind would happen. We heard of threats last winter that Terry had made against the life of Justice Field, and the other Judges and the Attorney General were worried about it. We knew what kind of a man Judge Terry was. He came to California from Terry was. He came to California from Texas with a bad reputation and malignant disposition. He was known to be a man who never forgave anyone, and naturally his fellow justices have been apprehensive of the safety of Judge Field since he sent Terry to jail for contempt of court.

"But Justice Field is a courageous man, and at a time did he average and few and the courage of the safety of th and at no time did he express any fears. I heard him say last winter that he would attend to his duties in California as he had always done, would visit every place where he had work to do, and he would not go out of his way to avoid Terry. I think the Justice would have defended himself, too, if it had been necessary. He is not one of those who would stand idly by when his life was in jeopardy.'

HE WOULDN'T ANSWER. "Had the Attorney General a right to delegate a Marshal to protect the Judge?"
"Well, I would rather not answer that question. The Attorney General is at the head of the Department of Justice, and all the machinery of the courts is under his control. He is bound to preserve peace and order in the courtrooms. It would certainly be a most atrocious crime if a judge should be murdered off the bench for any official act."

Mr. Jenks declined to express an opinion as to the right of the Attorney General to detail a marshal for such a purpose, on the ground that he was still in the service o the Government, and that he had free access to everything in the Department of Justice.

Judge James A. Waywine and P. T. Dickerson, a prominent lawyer of Alameds, Cal., are stopping at the Duquesne. Mr. Dickerson knew Judge Terry, and he told a friend that the State had been rid of a bad man. He was a desperado and a practical lawyer. For years Mr. Dickerson said he had been a terror to men in public life, and he was universally feared by everybody. He seemed to be devoid of conscience, and was quick to use deadly weapons.

One of the Venders Behind the Bars in Chicago—Thus Commercial Drummers' Cinb
—A Projector in Limbe.

Assistant Police Superintendent O'Mara has run to earth Robert B. Ford, one of the men who worked up the Drummers' Com-mercial Club project some weeks ago in this city, and has him in jail in Chicago, on information for conspiracy, entered by Messrs. Wells and Duncan, who think he has got away with $600. Mr. O'Mara was yester day busy arranging to get out the requisitio papers to have Ford brought to this city.

Ford and some others swelled the heads of a considerable number of people in this city by dwelling on the necessity for a clubroom here for the accommodation of the drummers of the United States, representing that there were some 200,000 of them, and that their influence, exerted for or against a city was a setter of much me and that their influence, exerted for or against a city, was a matter of much moment. Among those who came down liberally with the dust were the railway companies, hotel proprietors, merchants and manufacturers. Among names of contributors given were those of Carnegie, Frick, Overholt, Zug & Co., and others too numerous to mention. The fellows cut a pretty broad swath, and wine suppers and other adventitious aids were employed. Mr. O'Mara at the time denounced the matter as a swindle; but his warning was not heeded until the project had gotten free course, had run and had been glorified, when the awakening came and the birds had flown. A man named Dearborn was connected with Ford, and there were quite a number of others who pulled out.

Connected with the project was a grand excursion to Baden on the steamer Mayflower. Some 1,500 or 1,800 tickets were sold, and about 150 people went on the burglary. Since then a number of robberies have been committed in the city, and the detectives thought they at once recognized the handiwork of the ex-convict.

Assistant Superintendent Roger O'Mara stated last night that they had found a lot of cases against Tate during the last few days. Among them he mentioned several robberies on Fifth avenue and another at the residence of Mrs. Blakely, of South Nineteenth street. Mr. O'Mara has a large quantity of stolen goods in his possession, and says that he is positive Tate stole them.

Two weeks ago a thief was discovered in the store of William Barkley, No. 147 South Nineteenth street. Mr. and Mrs. Barkley heard a noise in the store room about 12 o'clock, and going down stairs found a man. He however succeeded in escaping, securing only a small amount of money and some jewelry of little value. Tate was suspected of the attempted burglary, and last evening he was taken in the Soutside patrol wagon to the Twenty-eighth ward station. He was placed in a row with nine other men, and Mr. and Mrs. Barkley called in to identify him. They at once picked out Tate as the man. They also stated that they recognized his voice.

An information was then lodged against es have been committed in the city, and the Much surprise was manifested by local politicians, as three men, Messrs. Peter Schatzmann, John Lehman and Noble Jones, were candidates. The appointment gives satisfaction.

LOCAL ITEMS, LIMITED.

Two young girls from Youngstown, O., were before Magistrate Brokaw yesterday at the instance of Agent O'Brien, of the Humane Society, who claims that the pair were in very shady company. The girls were defiant, and said they would like to go to the workhouse. The last names they gave were Esther Clark and Saille Sounds. The authorities are puzzled what to do with them.

W. J. Marks' grocery store on the Butler plank road, 21 miles from Pittsburg, missed merchandise valued at $55 yesterday. The merchandise valued at $50 yesterday. The thief was tracked to Butler street and arrested by Officer Palmer. He gave his name as Charles Davis at the Twelfth ward station. The thief had a horse and light spring wagon, which are supposed to have been stolen.

ONE MORE DILEMMA

Johnstown Unable to Educate Its Children Without Aid.

AN APPEAL TO THE OUTER WORLD.

One Line of Quite Noticeable Gain From

the Misfortune. THE BRIDGE BUILDERS ENJOY A BOOM

Yesterday Secretary Charles Reisfar, of the Central Board of Education, received an appeal for aid from the Board of Education of Johnstown. It is dated August 6. It states that it is impossible for the board to ecure, by means of taxation, the money required to maintain the Johnstown schools during the current year. No part of the money contributed to the sufferers can be used for school purposes. The board appealed to Governor Beaver for assistance, but he did not feel that he possessed the authority to apply to their re-lief any part of the educational appropriation of the Commonwealth. During the past year the board had under its control 36 schools and 38 teachers, with an enrollment of 1,913 pupils. It requires $23,000 per year to 'maintain the schools. During the coming year the board expects to have 1,800 pupils to provide for. Some of their schoolhouses have been de-stroyed, and the others are greatly damaged. In addition to their losses they have a bonded indebtedness of $12,000, which, with the reduced valuation of Johnstown since the deluge, will bring the indebtedness of the board up to the constitutional limit. The board needs $25,000. This, they say, it cannot secure by taxation or loans, and for

A RAPID TRANSMITTER.

Mr. Cable Claims He Cas Send 500 Words Per Minute by a New Key-A Big Been for Telegraph Operators. D. J. Cable, the electrician, and L. O.

Kleber recently applied for a patent on an automatic telegraphic key, intended to take the place of the Wheatstone repeater, by which they claim an operator can transmit 500 words per minute. If the invention proves to be successful, its immense adrantages cannot be discounted.

The capacity of the Wheatstone repeater is from 100 to 105 words per minute, but there are very few operators who can attain this speed.

Rapid transmission would have been a big boom to the newspaper men during the Johnstown disaster. There was no trouble to get the news; the biggest kind of items were lying around loose; but, after the reporters had the news written then came the question of transmission, and here was where the greatest amount of anxiety was encountered. To fill two pages of THE DISPATCH, as was done during the first days of the flood, required a force of operators to work 18 hours a day, so that, if the new key will accomplish what is claimed for it, it will be a valuable adjunct in times of great emergencies.

Mr. Cable declined to describe his inven Mr. Cable declined to describe his invention in detail until the patent is granted, but he says he has performed tests, and every one was satisfactory. The present key cramps the hand of the operators, and they soon get tired. The hew key also is worked by hand; but in such a manner that the fingers do not grow weary. With his automatic kep at one end of a line and the ordinary Morse register at the other, Mr. Cable says an operator can soon transmit a long message, and it can be copied in the office by clerks. In this age the element of time has become an important factor in everything, and any invention to facilitate matters in any business will always be welcomed. iess will always be welcomed.
